1972-73 WRESTLING
EARLY SEASON QUESTIONS
INSTALLMENT I

EDITOR'S NOTE: These interpretations of the 1972 National Alliance Wrestling Rules do not set aside nor modify any rule. They are made and published by the National Federation of State High School Association in response to situations presented.

Clifford B. Fagan, Editor,
National Federation Publications

1. Situation: In the second period of a match, A1 gasps for breath and requests a time-out which is granted. While his coach and team trainer are attending him at the side of the mat, he is given special medication to relieve his congestion. It is explained that he is asthmatic and unable to wrestle a full match without medication.

Ruling: A1 must be disqualified and the match awarded to his opponent by default. The use of special medication to relieve pre-existent conditions will cause the offending wrestler to be disqualified.

2. Situation: From the starting position on the mat, B1 quickly stands up and: (a) strips the hands of A1 then turns to face A1; or (b) starts toward the edge of the mat, strips the hands of A and is more than an arm's length away with his back towards A as B1 goes off the mat; or (c) moves toward the edge of the mat and strips the hands of A1 just as B1 crosses the boundary line.

Ruling: In (a) B1 has escaped and will be awarded one point. In (b) it may be possible for B1 to gain an escape in this situation provided A1 does not follow up and try to maintain his advantage. If in the referee's opinion, B1 uses the boundary in order to stop wrestling after he stripped the hands of A1, there would be no change. In (c) there has been no escape and wrestling will be resumed with the contestants in the same position following the out-of-bounds.

Comment: In the definition for an escape, there is no requirement that the defensive man face his opponent following his successful attempt to break free, even though this is used as a guideline. Officials must use careful judgment in determining when the offensive man loses control of his opponent. In the vast majority of cases, the defensive man will immediately turn to face his opponent when gaining an escape.

3. Situation: A1 has his opponent in a pinning situation near the edge of the mat. As A1 turns the torso of B1 away from the boundary, B1 moves so that the lower part of his body is outside of the wrestling area. The supporting parts of A1 remain inbounds as do the shoulders of B1.

Ruling: Wrestling shall continue as long as the shoulders of B1 are within the inbounds area. Near-fall points may be earned in this situation. If either shoulder of B1 touches the boundary line or outside that line, wrestling will continue if there is a possibility of A1 bringing B1 back inbounds.

4. Situation: From a neutral position, A1 executes a duck-under and moves to a controlled rear standing position behind B1. In an effort to force B1 to the mat: (a) A1 grasps one leg of B1 so that B1 is supporting his weight on his hands and one leg as both contestants go out-of-bounds; or (b) A1 lifts both legs of B1 from the mat so that B1 is supporting his weight on his hands, beyond re-action time, outside the boundary line.

Ruling: In (a) there is no takedown. In the position described, A1 does not have control of B1. In (b) a takedown should be awarded even though the hands of B1 are outside the boundary. Wrestling shall continue provided the supporting points of A1 are inbounds.

5. Situation: B1 is successful in gaining a reversal while both wrestlers are near the edge of the mat and A1 is on his back attempting to avoid a pinning situation by moving out-of-bounds. B1 attempts to drive or hold A1 in the inbounds area and the supporting points of B1 are inbounds.

Ruling: Wrestling shall continue so long as the supporting points of either wrestler are inbounds. In a situation such as this, the referee shall permit wrestling to continue as long as there is the possibility of the wrestler on the mat gaining a position keeping his opponent in the inbounds area.

Comment: In this type of situation, the referee must exercise careful judgment. If there is little or no chance of the offensive man bringing his opponent into the inbounds area or keeping him there, the referee shall declare an out-of-bounds after a reasonable length of time.

6. Situation: From the starting position on the mat, B1 comes from underneath and gets behind A1 in a rear standing position, after which the wrestlers stumble out-of-bounds before B1 is able to control A1 on the mat.

Ruling: B1 has gained a reversal and two points are awarded. It is not required that B1 bring A1 to the mat in order to gain two points for a reversal. A reversal may be earned while in a standing position and two points are awarded B1 as soon as he goes behind A1 in a controlled situation.

7. Situation: A1 controls B1 in a pinning situation and: (a) both shoulders of B1 are stopped within 3 inches of the mat; or (b) one shoulder of B1 is on the mat and the other within 30 degrees of the mat. The referee begins a visual hand count in both (a) and (b).

Ruling: When the referee begins the visual hand count, he has, in effect, announced that A1 has earned two points for a near-fall in (a) and (b). If an additional point is to be earned, A1 must control his opponent so that the criteria for a near-fall are met, uninterrupted, for 5 seconds. The referee is solely responsible for determining whether the criteria have been met for the required length of time.

Comment: While it is desirable that the visual (Continued on Page Eleven)

Attention, Principals and Superintendents

The forms to be used for ordering your tickets to the State Basketball Tournament will be mailed about mid-December. Instead of trying to get the order postmarked January 2, as indicated on the Memorandum Calendar, you may send anytime through January 15 without loss of priority. The Board of Control will set up a seating rotation plan to be used from one year to another for distributing the tickets calling for seats in the arena. Also, this will give you additional time to prepare the order.

Delegate Assembly Members

Members of the Delegate Assembly at the forthcoming 1973 annual meeting of the Association were elected by the principals of K.H.S.A.A. member schools on ballots returned to the State Office before November 15. There were several ties in the voting for delegate and alternate. These ties were broken recently, with the delegates and alternates determined by lot. The names of the district representatives are as follows:

1972-73 Wrestling
Early Season Questions

hand count be used, it is acknowledged that there are some situations in which the referee will be unable to use the signal because of the necessity for him to move quickly from one side of the wrestlers to the other, in order to be in a position to observe that the criteria are being met. Under these conditions, the referee will be unable to start the visual hand count thus indicating that two hands have been placed and that the offensive man is working for a three point near-fall.
8. Situation: In assuming the starting position on the mat, defensive wrestler B1 places his hands in front of the forward starting line and his knees behind but in contact with the rear starting line and: (a) his lower legs are parallel and in line with the long axis of his body; or (b) his feet are touching behind him so that his lower legs angle in from the point of contact of the knees on the mat. A1, in assuming his position to the left side of B1 and in (a), places his left knee on the mat to the outside of the lower leg of B1 with his right foot on the mat between the lower legs of B1. In (b) A1, on the left side of B1, places his left knee on the mat behind but, not contacting the lower leg of B1 and his right foot on the feet of B1, but beyond the right side of B1.

Ruling: The position of A1 in (a) is illegal due to the placement of his right foot. The foot may be behind B1 but must be behind the line described by the feet of B1. In (b) the position of A1 is legal. A1 must have one knee or foot on the mat to the outside of the near leg, but not touching the defensive wrestler. In the position described in (b), even though A1 is behind B1, the position is legal since it meets the requirements of the rule.

9. Situation: From a neutral position, A1 is successful in gaining control of one leg of B1. B1 counters with a cross-face and A1 is unable to successfully gain a takedown. How long should wrestling continue?

Ruling: When it is apparent to the referee that neither wrestler can improve his position, he shall, as soon as possible, stop the match and re-start it in a neutral position. A stalemate shall be called as soon as it is recognized that neither wrestler is able to progress in his attempt to escape or to control his opponent.

10. Situation: B1 has attempted several times to reverse his opponent by switching and each time he tries, A1 blocks the maneuver by locking his hands around the near leg of B1 causing a stalemate situation. After calling a stalemate on 2 or more occasions because of this maneuver, the referee warns the offensive wrestler for stalling.

Ruling: Continually grasping an interlocking hand around one leg resulting in a stalemate situation is a type of stalling. The offender is to be warned if he has not previously had such a warning for this offense. If previously warned, he will be penalized for stalling.

11. Situation: B1 who has a certified weight of 132 pounds, weighs in for a dual meet at 134. He is an outstanding wrestler and his coach has assigned him to replace an injured contestant in the 155-pound class.

Ruling: A1 will not be permitted to wrestle in the 155-pound class. A contestant may not wrestle more than one weight class above his actual stripped weight at the time of the weigh-in. In this instance, A1 could wrestle either at 138 or 145 pounds, but in no other weight class.

12. Situation: For a dual meet, there is to be a preliminary meet followed immediately by the varsity competition. The preliminary meet scheduled to begin at 6:30 p.m. and the coaches agree that all wrestlers, including varsity competitors, will weigh in from 3:30 to 6:00 p.m. A varsity wrestler at 155 pounds is overweight and requests permission to weigh-in one hour before the varsity meet in order to have time to make weight.

Ruling: This request will be denied. All wrestlers from both teams are required to weigh-in during the thirty-minute period between 3:30 and 6:00 p.m. Wrestlers who cannot make weight during that period may not participate in that dual meet.

13. Situation: Prior to a dual meet, both coaches agree to vary the order of competition by permitting the visiting team wrestler at each weight class to draw a match number from a hat at the time of weigh-in. During competition, the coach of B wishes to change the order of competition.

Ruling: This is not permissible. It is recommended that the order in which weight classes are to be wrestled be varied by some method. Once it is agreed that the classes are to be varied, that order should be followed without exception in conducting the meet.

14. Situation: From the starting position on the mat, B1 quickly stands and A1 locks his hands around the waist of B1 in an attempt to bring him to the mat. B1, who is standing: (a) flat footed; or (b) on his toes, has his hands on the mat to help support his weight.

Ruling: In (a) A1 is not required to release his locked hands because B1 has his weight on his feet and is not considered to be on the mat. The fact that he touches his hands to the mat does not qualify him as being on the mat and, therefore, A1 may legally lock his hands. In (b) if it is determined that B1 is supporting the majority of his weight on his hands, he is technically on the mat and following reaction time A1 must release his locked hands. Continuing to lock his hands after more than fifteen seconds has elapsed, will constitute a technical violation by A1.

15. Situation: On the mat, A1 breaks B1 down. A1 applies an arm hook which is turned into a twisting hammerlock and B1 is injured before the referee can stop the hold. B1 requests and is awarded an injury time-out after 1 minute and 30 seconds. B1 declares that he is ready to resume wrestling. Later in the match: (a) B1 again requests time-out because of the previous injury; or (b) is again injured from an illegal hold which was applied by A1.
Ruling: The time-out following the first illegal hold by A1 is not deducted from the injury time to which B1 is entitled. In (a) the time used by B1 will be deducted from the allotted three-minute injury time to which B1 is entitled. In (b) because B1 was again injured by a different illegal hold, he is entitled to time-out for injury which will not be deducted from his injury time. When a wrestler is injured by an illegal hold, he must decide whether he can continue to wrestle within the three-minute time-out period. If he decides to continue to wrestle, he may not thereafer claim that injury from that particular illegal hold caused him to discontinue the match. If he decides that he is unable to continue following the illegal hold, the match will be awarded to him by default.

16. Situation: In assuming the starting position on the mat: (a) B1 changes his position just as A1 is taking his offensive position; or (b) A1 continues to adjust equipment after the referee indicates both wrestlers should assume their starting positions.
Ruling: In (a) and (b) following a verbal caution, the wrestler using such tactics or similar delaying maneuvers will be penalized for delay of match. This is a technical violation which is not preceded by a warning.
Comment: The verbal caution by the referee is required. This may take several forms. For instance, when the referee directs the contestants to assume their starting positions without delay, it is a type of caution. He may indicate to the offending wrestler that he is expected to assume the starting position immediately and remain stationary until the signal is given to start the match. The verbal caution is not intended to be a threat to the wrestlers, but simply a reminder that they have an obligation to assume their starting positions and to be ready to wrestle on the whistle.

17. Situation: At the end of a close match, the score is tied and the referee directs both wrestlers to go to their respective areas on the 10-foot circle. The wrestlers comply and the referee moves to the official's table to check the score. It is determined that: (a) A1 has a net time advantage of 1 minute and 3 seconds; or (b) one point which was awarded A1 because of an illegal hold by B1 was not credited on the scoreboard. In either case, the match is awarded to A1 and B1 reacts by throwing his headgear and cursing.
Ruling: This is an example of flagrant unsportsmanlike conduct on the part of B1. He will be penalized by the deduction of one point from his team's score. There is no warning prior to this penalty.

18. Situation: At the end of a closely contested match, the referee directs both contestants to go to their respective red and green areas on the 10-foot circle. As the referee moves to the official's table, A1 goes to the team bench to confer with his coach.
Ruling: This is a technical violation by A1 for leaving the mat without permission. He will be penalized and B1 awarded one point even though time for the match has expired. The match is not ended until the outcome is declared.
