Officials and Coaches Organizations Established

The National Federation Council acted January 6 in New Orleans to establish national professional organizations for high school coaches and officials. Separate organizations for coaches and officials will be operative beginning with the 1981-82 school year and be named the National Federation Interscholastic Coaches Association (NFICA) and National Federation Interscholastic Officials Association (NFIOA).

An ad hoc committee was appointed by the National Federation's Executive Committee to prepare recommendations for the initial organization of these two associations. Under the chairmanship of Herman L. "Bubba" Scott, executive director of the Alabama High School Athletic Association as well as the Alabama High School Coaches Association, the ad hoc committee submitted several recommendations which have subsequently been refined and approved for immediate implementation by the Executive Committee.

State Associations Involvement Significant

A fundamental principle underlying the establishment and continuity of the NFICA and the NFIOA is the direct administrative and cooperative involvement of state associations. Such participation by state associations should be a basic benefit to the high school coaching and officiating professions which cannot be realized by membership in any other professional organization. Although membership in each association will be on an individual basis, it will permit an individual to be part of a national organization which is an integral part of, rather than extraneous to, the national and state bodies actually having the responsibility and authority for the promulgation of playing rules and the administration of high school sports in the United States. The unmatched advantage accruing to individual coaches and officials because of this integral relationship will be the opportunity for professional growth while being represented through their own national professional organizations in providing meaningful input in a variety of ways to programs affecting them and administered by high school organizational sports authorities.

Purposes and Objectives Outlined

The NFICA and NFIOA will share common purposes and objectives in that basically the organizations will provide for professional growth of the individuals in their respective professions; provide services and enhance the image of interscholastic coaches and officials; provide for cooperation and development of prestige of their respective professions through the efforts and coordination of state high school associations; provide an effective system of communications in each state between individual sports officials and coaches, local and regional associations, state organizations and the National Federation; and advance and preserve the educational nature of interscholastic athletics for boys and girls in the curricula of schools.

Organizational Structure

Both the NFICA and NFIOA will be governed by their own separate board of directors made up of eight individuals, one from each of the eight geographical sections of the United States corresponding to the eight National Federation sections. Initially, the boards of directors will be nominated by state associations in those eight sections and selected by the National Federation Executive Committee. Special committees of active high school sports coaches and officials are to be selected by the NFICA and NFIOA boards to function in different areas such as membership, member services, publications, individual sports, awards and recognition, and other committees determined by the respective boards.

Each school's representative shall have a weighted vote based on the average daily attendance in that school when his vote is cast in an election for membership to the Board of Control, for an election of a representative to the Delegate Assembly or all other matters including surveys or polls of the Representatives, that determine action or policy of the Association. The weight of the representative vote shall be calculated on the basis of one vote for each 100 students in average daily attendance or major portion thereof at that school. Only certified personnel employed by the local district, private or parochial school are eligible for appointment."

The motion carried by a majority vote.

Walter Pickett moved, seconded by Denval Barriger that Proposal II be adopted. Proposal II reads as follows:

Services, Benefits and Recognition
To Be Unmatched

An informational brochure listing all the details of professional services, individual member benefits, and awards and recognition programs will be made available in the near future to individual coaches and officials through state associations. Through the efforts and administration of the National Federation, the athletic administrators of the nation have been organized and provided services and benefits since 1977. Now there will be three separate national professional associations, one each for high school athletic administrators, sports officials and coaches. It is anticipated that these three organizations will enjoy many of the same services, benefits and awards recognition programs as well as other programs which are specifically designed for each group.

Professional services will include approximately ten issues per year of a monthly tabloid, National Inter-scholastic Official and National Interscholastic Coach, publications specifically prepared for each respective professional organization. Also, there will be clinics and regional conferences, films, audio and video tapes as well as instructional transparencies concerning officiating and coaching mechanics and techniques on National Federation sports rules. There will be opportunity to provide input into the development of national Federation sports rules through special committees and to obtain interpretations of playing rules from the only organization which promulgates the rules and has authority to provide official interpretations thereof. Reciprocity between states for the benefit of officials will be developed.

Individual benefits will include unmatched insurance programs including medical protection, accidental death and dismemberment protection, and individual liability insurance along with special term life and hospital helper insurance for members and their families. Also included among the benefits will be a nationwide relocation service through a full service real estate company, discount privileges on a variety of items including but not limited to car purchasing, car and truck rental, officiating and coaching equipment and uniforms, and travel and motel accommodations.

Award and recognition programs will include a national program to recognize outstanding coaches and officials in all sports, the development of a National High School Hall of Fame to include recognition of outstanding coaches and officials, and a special section in the National High School Sports Record Book, a National Federation publication, recognizing outstanding high school coaches and officials.

Various Memberships
Available

Both the NFICA and NFIOA will include a regular membership category exclusively for active sports coaches and officials; an associate membership to anyone interested in high school sports; a patron membership available to institutions, organizations corporations and others interested in supporting high school coaching and officiating; and an honorary membership to be specifically granted by vote of the boards of directors of the NFICA and NFIOA to those individuals who have made exceptional contributions to high school sports coaching and officiating.
