Sportsmanship -
A United Effort

Whether the scene is the smallest high school in the United States or the World Series or Super Bowl, and whether you are a player, coach, official or spectator, sportsmanship is the common denominator and No. 1 priority, even more important than winning and losing.

Sportsmanship is so important that eight organizations responsible for athletics in the United States have banded together to promote sportsmanship.

The "Be A Sport" theme and logo were produced as a sign of unity among the eight organizations. The handshake on the logo symbolizes the spirit by which contests should be played at all levels of competition.

Join these eight groups this season; and whether you're a player, coach, official or fan, remember to BE A SPORT.

KHSAA Membership Cost Analysis

The K.H.S.A.A. Administrative staff has spent much of the past few weeks on the road visiting the various regions of the state as we strive to improve the Associations' communications with our schools. As part of the presentation, a financial summary has been displayed showing the member schools how the Association spends its over $1.5 million dollar budget. At the request of many of the schools, the slide is being printed here for your inspection.

The sport columns illustrate how much it cost the Association for each member school to participate in a state sponsored championship sport.

New Playoff Format for Football

For the 1991 football season, a new playoff system has been adopted whereby the top four teams from each district will qualify for the playoffs. The bracket for the championships is listed on this page, and is in effect for all regions in Classes A, AA and AAA, as well as regions I and IV of Class AAAAA. The bracket for regions II and III of class AAAAA will be printed in the next issue if space permits. It should be noted that for the fourth round of the playoffs (semi-finals), the Board of Control shall conduct a blind draw of the 4 regional winners to determine pairings. Following the draw, the site and dates for those games shall be established by the Board of Control.

1991 High School Activities Week set for October 13-20

In 1980, National High School Activities Week was initiated to increase the public's awareness of the values and needs of activity programs. Twelve years later, the values remain as sound as ever, but the needs - particularly for public support and adequate funding - have become more problematic.

USA Today, in a recent cover story (Tuesday, July 30), summarized the situation: "... Public schools across the USA are getting squeezed by recession-tightened state budgets and continued sentiment against rising property taxes." As a result, activity programs are among the first to fall victim to budget cuts.

"Activities Week" is the time to remind the public that interscholastic programs provide a high return for a minimum cost - approximately one to five percent of a total school budget. School administrators responsible for the development and conduct of interscholastic program must make certain that each and every pocket in their communities is made aware of the inherent values derived from this American tradition - interscholastic activities. The "Activities Week Checklist for Schools" is provided as a starting point for administrators who want to ensure that their programs remain strong.

High schools are encouraged to participate in two National Federation programs directly related to "Activities Week," which will be celebrated October 13-20.

Walt Disney World
National Dreamers and Doers

To date, approximately 6,500 high school juniors have been selected "Dreamers and Doers" by high schools across the nation. Initiated in 1989, this unique program, co-sponsored by the National Federation and administered by state high school associations, recognized students for their participation - not necessarily achievement - in interscholastic activity programs and demonstration of four character traits admired by Walt Disney - curiosity, confidence, courage and constancy. General contributions to school and the community also are considered.

Only juniors are eligible to be selected "Dreamers and Doers." In their senior year, each "Dreamer and Doer" is then able to serve as a spokesperson in the school and community, promoting the values of participation interscholastic activity programs. Participating schools receive an award certificate for presentation at an appropriate school event and a booklet containing suggestions for providing opportunities to their "Dreamers and Doers" to assume leadership roles.

"We believe there are "Dreamers and Doers" in every school. Creating forums for these young people to share their personal experience of participation in interscholastic programs may be the most potent and effective means to advance the case for high school activities.

"Be A Sport"

At its Annual Meeting in San Diego, the National Federation declared that sportsmanship remains its No. 1 priority for the 1991-92 school year. To this end, the National Federation and its membership encourage all high schools to include in their Activities Week celebration special events and programs attendant to National Sportsmanship Day, October 17, 1991.

Further, the National Federation hopes high school across the nation will support its "Be A Sport" sportsmanship campaign. The "Be A Sport" logo includes a handshake, which symbolizes the desired spirit of competition at all levels.

The "Be A Sport" slogan and logo first were adopted by the National Sportsmanship Committee (NSC), which is composed of eight national organizations representing both the amateur and professional levels of sports: National Federation of State High School Associations, National Collegiate Athletic Association, National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics, National Junior College Athletic Association, Major League Baseball, National Basketball Association, National Football League and the National Hockey League. The "Be A Sport" logo is being disseminated within each organization of the NSC and will be seen on television, at stadiums and arenas and in printed materials at every level of athletics.

The National Federation Sportsmanship, Ethics and Integrity Committee has approved the "Be A Sport" logo and encourages its use this year by the high school community.

Later in the fall, the National Federation will be informing the high school community about "Be A Sport" merchandise, such as lapel pins, patches, caps, hangers and T-shirts that will be available through the National Federation. Proceeds from the sale of "Be A Sport" merchandise then will be used to fund specific sportsmanship programs and services.

High schools interested in obtaining camera-ready, color artwork of the "Be A Sport" logo, at no cost, may contact the National Federation office. The logo can be utilized in school publications, game programs, posters and other printed materials.

For more information and materials to help promote "Activities Week," participation in the 1992 Walt Disney World National Dreamers and Doers program and the "Be A Sport" sportsmanship campaign, contact the National Federation office.

Activities Week checklist for schools

MAIL announcements and articles about Activities Week to local newspapers and radio stations.

SPOTLIGHT a regularly scheduled interscholastic event during the week and attempt to have a sellout crowd. You may want to plan a special attraction such as holding a raffle or conducting a poster or slogan contest. Invite prominent community leaders to attend and be recognized for their support of activity programs, or schedule performances by student activity groups (pom-poms, band, drama, etc.)

HOST a special luncheon or reception recognizing faculty and other community members who coach, sponsor or officiate school activity programs.

ARRANGE for students in your high school activity programs to visit the elementary and middle schools to provide forensics and music demonstrations. Your students also could speak about the fun and educational values derived from involvement in activities.

REQUEST local clergy to support Activities Week by addressing the benefits of activity programs - sportsmanship, teamwork, trying one's best - in their announcements or sermons.

Emphasis on winning, appearance linked to steroid use

by Dorothy E. McIntyre, Associate Director
Minnesota State High School League

Research is presenting a clear picture: the non-medical use of steroids is occurring and growing within the interscholastic athletic program.

A recent report containing excellent information comes from the federal Department of Health and Human Services, "Adolescents and Steroids: A User Perspective," August 1990, (OEI-06-90-01081) and "Adolescent Steroid Use," February 1991, (OEI-06-90-01080). Their findings indicate that over one-quarter of a million adolescents, primarily males, use or have used steroids, and their numbers are growing.

As educators, we must be concerned and begin to take action.

Use begins early: the data shows that over half of the adolescents who use steroids try them for the time by age 16. Because of the early onset of use, adolescents frequently increase dosages, variety and cycle length over time, and that it may lead to other drug use.

Athletes are vulnerable: steroid users are generally highly motivated, will train intensely to improve themselves and are concerned about their appearance and receiving peer approval. And they want to please peers, coaches and parents.

Steroids do work: research indicates that anabolic steroids are capable of enhancing strength, size and the capacity to train. Students believe that it may help their team to win.

Our responsibility is education: Students should be aware of the potential risks of steroid use as one means of deterring use. The message must come early, in middle and junior high school, and be reinforced by adults, peers, and student activity leaders. If steroid information is to be effective, we must be honest about steroids, avoiding scare tactics, and acknowledging that steroids do impact the areas of strength, size and appearance.

Peer leadership is a resource: student leaders can be an effective means of intervening to limit steroid use since peers are a major source of information and using becomes secretive among team members.

Adults can send a clear message: "we are so opposed to steroids that we would rather lose every game than have any of you use steroids." This message must be supported by coaches, trainers, parents and the medical professionals.

The National Consensus Meeting on Anabolic/Androgenic Steroids, 1989, sponsored by the UOC/NCAA, National Federation of State High School Associations and the AAU of Los Angeles, recommended an education program that should:

- clearly and consistently send a message from coaches, parents, educators and physicians that they don't want adolescents to use steroids.
- help adolescents develop realistic expectations and goals for themselves and alternatives to steroids use, such as improved weight training methods, nutrition or training techniques.
- advocate and encourage social support for not using steroids, including a de-emphasis on winning at all costs and the social/monetary regards attached to winning.
- encourage positive role modeling by elite and professional athlete,
- emphasize the moral and ethical aspects of steroid use, i.e., steroids is cheating and destroys fair play.

With the beginning of the new year, it is a good time to educate through your preseason meetings, coaches meetings and other avenues for communicating with your students and parents.

We can make a difference!

Commissioner Wise discussed with the Board a request he had received from the Kentucky Girls Sports Association to hold the Girls State Basketball Tournament first each year. Following comments by Board members, President Johnson referred this item to the Basketball Committee. He requested that the Commissioner's Office furnish stats to the Basketball Committee and that a report be presented to the full Board at the October meeting.

Board members were then asked for their input on sites, dates and times for the Regional Meetings. Mr. Wise advised the Board that a schedule of these meetings would be mailed to them in the near future.

Ray Story made a motion to approve North & South Laurel County's request to be classified AAAA in football and placed in Laurel County's existing district. Harry Jansing seconded the motion which passed unanimously.

Mr. Wise discussed a request from Whitley County to waive the starting date for football due to a conflict at their school. Frank Cardwell moved to deny their request. Stan Steidel seconded the motion which passed unanimously.

Following a discussion of By-Law 5, Section 4-1-c, Ray Story made a motion that a referendum be mailed to all member schools asking for a clarification and change to this section. Roland Williams seconded the motion, which passed unanimously.

Asst. Comm. Stout reported to the Board that the Commissioner's Office had been asked to survey the schools to add Girls Soccer. Claudia Hicks made a motion, seconded by Sandy Allen, that based on the results of the 1989-90 soccer survey and due to the increase in boys soccer participation in the fall, the schools be surveyed for Girls Soccer as a Spring sport. The motion failed by a vote of 8-3.

Mr. Stout requested that the Board raise the baseball officials fees as follows effective with the 1991-92 season: $30/game; $60/double header. Frank Cardwell moved to adopt these fees, seconded by Sandy Allen. The motion failed by a vote of 6-4-1.

It was suggested that the Track and Field Survey regarding the possible addition of the girls triple jump and the boys and girls 3200m relay be conducted at the beginning of the 1991 school year. The Board set the date and time for the next meeting to be held on Saturday, October 12 at 1:00 p.m. in Lexington at the K.H.S.A.A. Office. The following committees will meet on Saturday morning: All-Sports, Executive, Basketball and Football.

Jack Portwood made a motion, seconded by Harry Jansing, that the Board set the following ticket prices for the State Football Playoffs: All advance tickets - $5.00; At gate tickets - $5.00 students, 7.00 adults. The motion passed unanimously.

There being no further business to come before the Board, Roland Williams moved for adjournment. The motion was seconded by Harry Jansing and passed unanimously.
