BENEFITS REVIEW- EQUIPMENT AND SUPPLIES: The 2006 Title IX school visit report rated this benefit category Deficient noting there was no plan in place for the equitable review and replacement of uniforms and spending in this category significantly favored male participants. The 2013 school visit report rated this category Satisfactory based on the implementation of an equitable uniform replacement plan and expenditures that seemed to be within generally accepted parameters for the provision of parity. All uniforms and equipment inspected during the most recent visit appeared to be of excellent quality and supplied in equitable quantities. The Title IX file contains a uniform review, rotation, and/or replacement plan showing a four-year cycle of replacement for all varsity teams except girls and boys tennis, girls and boys swimming, girls and boys golf, and bowling which are replaced annually. Interviews with student athletes and coaches confirmed knowledge of and adherence to this plan. The 2017-18 and 2018-19 annual Title IX reports show that approximately $135 per female athlete and $123 per male athlete was spent for equipment and supplies.

Like sports scheduling	X
Scheduling of shared practice facilities	X
Optimal playing times	X

BENEFITS REVIEW- SCHEDULING OF GAMES AND PRACTICE TIMES: The 2006 and 2013 Title IX school visit reports rated this benefit category Satisfactory. The 2013 report mentioned the lack of a written facility usage schedule for the indoor hitting facility shared by baseball and softball. Information gathered during the most recent visit revealed that the number of competitive events scheduled for teams of “like” sports was comparable. Facility usage schedules showing equitable access for both genders were available for the gyms, the weight training rooms, the indoor batting facility, and the soccer field. Interviews with student athletes gave strong indication that these schedules were being followed. The scheduling of athletic events during optimal playing times on an equitable basis for both genders was discussed with school officials who were encouraged to make this effort a priority.

BENEFITS REVIEW- TRAVEL AND PER DIEM: The 2006 and 2013 Title IX school visit reports rated this benefit category Satisfactory. Regulations addressing equitable provision of mode of transportation and meals were made available during the most recent visit. There were no regulations for the provision of parity regarding lodging. Interviews with coaches and student athletes did not indicate that any policies were being consistently followed to provide equitable lodging. (See KHSAA Recommended Action.) The 2017-18 and 2018-19 annual Title IX reports show that approximately $118 per female athlete and $86 per male athlete was spent for travel and per diem.

BENEFITS REVIEW- COACHING: The 2006 and 2013 Title IX school visit reports rated this benefit category Satisfactory. During the most recent visit, it was learned that the athletic director is responsible for the evaluation of all head coaches. A written instrument is not currently used as part of this process. A review of the district's extra service pay schedule for coaches indicated parity. The T-35 form in the 2018-19 annual Title IX report shows that the total amounts spent for coaching salaries for teams of "like" sports was comparable. Information gathered during the most recent visit revealed that the coaching ratio for females was 12.25 participants per coach and the ratio for males was 12.0 participants per coach. Data provided by the athletic director indicated that 33% (3/9) of the head coaches of girls teams and 60% (6/10) of the head coaches of boys teams are on-campus employees. This benefit appears to slightly favor the male participants.

Competition and practice venues	X
Dressing areas	X
Equipment storage areas	X

BENEFITS REVIEW- LOCKER ROOMS, PRACTICE AND COMPETITIVE FACILITIES: The 2006 Title IX school visit report rated this benefit category Deficient based on numerous amenities at the baseball field being superior to those for softball. There were also differences listed in the practice facility used by girls' basketball when compared to the practice facility for boys' basketball. Lastly, in 2006, several athletic teams appeared not to have assigned locker room space. The 2013 school visit report rated this benefit category Satisfactory. The report noted the construction of a new gym which significantly improved the practice facility for girls' basketball. There was also assigned locker space for all teams. A new softball field had been constructed with improved amenities. Three areas still needing improvement at the softball field were listed. These areas were the scoreboard, the dugouts, and the drop-off behind the bleachers which created a safety issue. The tour of facilities during the most recent visit showed that the remaining areas needing attention at the softball field have been satisfactorily addressed. A new inning by inning electric scoreboard is in place at the field, the dugouts are now enclosed and have safety fence, and the area behind the bleachers has been leveled with concrete and metal fencing installed. A tarp and sprinkler system in the outfield has also been added. Student athletes and school administrators agreed when questioned during the visit that the amenities at the softball field now show equivalence with those at the baseball field. All the other outdoor and indoor competitive facilities show parity. All the venues appear to be very well-maintained. The school has four dressing rooms in the north gym which serve all teams except football and wrestling. All of the available locker room space seems to be assigned equitably. Interviews during the visit indicated that at least one coach did not know the location of his team's assigned dressing area. IT IS IMPERATIVE THAT ALL COACHES AND STUDENT ATHLETES KNOW THE LOCATION OF ASSIGNED DRESSING ROOMS AND EQUIPMENT STORAGE AREAS. The school has a large amount of equipment storage space that appears to be assigned with the size of the teams and proximity to the teams' competitive/practice areas as high priorities.

BENEFITS REVIEW- MEDICAL AND TRAINING FACILITIES AND SERVICES: The 2006 and 2013 Title IX school visit reports rated this benefit category Satisfactory. The tour of facilities during the most recent visit revealed the school has two large, well-equipped weight training rooms. Weight room #1 is located upstairs in the North gym and offers numerous training options suitable for female participants and is easily accessible. Weight room #2 is located in the football complex, and is also large and well-equipped. It has fewer female-friendly training options than weight room #1. An equitable usage schedule for both of these venues was in the Title IX file and posted at each facility. Interviews with student athletes and coaches confirmed that female teams use both weight rooms. There services of an athletic trainer are provided equitably on a daily basis through a contract with Orthopedic Sports Medicine of Owensboro. All athletes are responsible for getting their own physical examinations.

INDIVIDUAL COMPONENTS	Acceptable	Needs Improvement
Support group assignments	X
Written regulation for recognition		X
Equity of spending	X

BENEFITS REVIEW- PUBLICITY: The 2006 and 2013 Title IX school visit reports rated this benefit category Satisfactory. The school currently has two varsity cheerleading squads—the Red squad and the Black squad which are selected at the same time by the same process. Both squads are assigned to cheer at all home football games and at away games that are less than a one-hour drive away from the school. Administrators did not know how the cheer squads were assigned for boys and girls basketball. (See KHSAA Recommended Action.) The full band performs at all home football games. A pep band plays at all home boys and girls basketball games versus in-city (Owensboro) opponents. The Title IX file contained detailed guidelines regarding the equitable provision of letters and bars, awards, and the posting of banners for athletic recognition. The guidelines for post season banquets were vague and gave no parameters for equivalence for this benefit. (See KHSAA Recommended Action.) The 2017-18 and 2018-19 annual Title IX reports show that the school spent approximately $12 per female athlete and $12 per male athlete for awards and recognition.

BENEFIT	Satisfactory	Deficient
SUPPORT SERVICES	X
INDIVIDUAL COMPONENTS	Acceptable	Needs Improvement
Office access		X
Booster Support	NA
Overall spending for athletic support	X

BENEFITS REVIEW- SUPPORT SERVICES: The 2006 and 2013 Title IX school visit reports rated this benefit category Satisfactory. Based on the tour of facilities and information gathered during the most recent visit, it appears that the assignment of office space slightly favors the coaches of male teams. The football and boys basketball coaches, currently, have exclusive office space. The girls' basketball and volleyball coaches share an office. According to school administrators, there are no athletic booster clubs supporting school teams. All spending for athletic benefits goes through school accounts, and the purchase order process is followed closely. An analysis of spending for the past two years shows that during 2017-18 and 2018-19, total athletic spending favored female participants (underrepresented gender) on both a percentage and per athlete basis. (See the internal summaries for the 2017-18 and 2018-19 annual Title IX reports.)

OTHER GENERAL OBSERVATIONS

Although not a part of the current Title IX evaluation, as per request, the school was asked to provide a copy of its Athletic Facility Emergency Medical Plan (KRS 160.445). The school's plan was venue-specific. UPON RECEIPT OF THIS REPORT, THIS PLAN SHOULD BE REVIEWED AND UPGRADED TO BE MORE COMPREHENSIVE IN REGARDS TO PROTOCOL IN THE CASE OF ILLNESS OR INJURY AT EACH ATHLETIC VENUE.

As per request, the school was asked to indicate the locations of its Automated External Defibrillators. The athletic director reported that there are five permanent AEDs located (1) in the North gym hallway, (2) outside the main school office, (3) inside the school's media center, (4) in the Fine Arts wing, and (5) in the football locker room. There is also a portable AED located in the concession area at Shifley Park (softball, baseball, and soccer complex) that is always carried by the athletic trainer.

No one from the community attended the Public Comments session. The school's athletic director was commended for the thorough preparation for this visit. The meeting was adjourned at 4:30 pm EDT.
