FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE: OCTOBER 6, 2010

KHSAA EXTENDS COVERAGE OF CHAMPIONSHIP EVENTS

The Kentucky High School Athletic Association and iHigh.com have announced an agreement that will bring nearly 100 championship event broadcasts to fans all over the world during the 2010-11 and 2011-12 school years.

iHigh.com will produce and distribute content for KHSAA events through its website as well as partnerships with WKYT in Lexington, WBKO in Bowling Green, WYMT in Hazard and several other outlets throughout the state. A total of 26 events will be shown on broadcast, cable and satellite television; while 73 more will be carried online. All of the events, live and archived, will be available for viewing free of charge on the www.khsaa.tv broadband portal.

The ongoing partnership between the KHSAA and iHigh.com showcases the Association's ongoing mission to feature accomplishments and achievements of Kentucky's more than 59,000 student-athletes.

"The additional television and online video coverage is important for Kentucky's schools and student-athletes," said KHSAA Commissioner Julian Tackett. "With the changing media landscape, we believe the time is right to expand our coverage. Through this new arrangement, we are able to provide better coverage than ever before."

Live television broadcasts will include the PNC/KHSAA Boys' State Basketball Tournament finals, Houchens Industries/KHSAA Girls' State Basketball Tournament finals, and the Forcht Bank/KHSAA State Baseball Tournament championship game in June. Delayed broadcasts will include the championship contests of volleyball, soccer, softball and the Commonwealth Gridiron Bowl. All delayed broadcasts will air two hours after the completion of the contest.

Live Internet broadcasts include coverage of the Pannell Swim Shop/KHSAA Swimming and Diving Championships, Wrestling and every game of the PNC Boys' and Houchens Girls' State Basketball Tournaments. The package also includes expanded video highlights of cross country, track and field and golf, starting with this week's Leachman Buick and GMC/KHSAA Boys' and Girls' State Golf Championships at the Bowling Green Country Club.

"Television and Internet coverage bring alive the excitement of KHSAA championships," said Tim Campbell, Chief Executive Officer of iHigh.com. "We are thrilled to make coverage of Kentucky's premier high school events among the most advanced in the country."
